RACING AT BENNING

Washington Jockey Club Meeting to Begin Monday.

THE NEW GRAND STAND HANDICAP

Some of the Cracks Entered in the Big Event.

FINE SPORT ASSURED

Beginning Monday next Washington will be given opportunity hitherto unequaled in its history to enjoy what has been so fully termed "the sport of kings." The autumn meeting of the Washington Jockey Club will begin on the splendid track at Benning, and will continue for three weeks, giving sixteen full days of racing. Sporadically, in past periods, the capital city of the nation has been afforded racing such as it is now destined to have permanently, conducted reputably and on a high plane. Notable, if brief, instances of this character in the past twenty-five years Hill had that track, afterward, at Ben- extension. ning, under the National Jockey Club, and later for a couple of meets at St. Asaph. The success of such ventures throughout the country and the tremendous public interest aroused in the sport led unscrupuous individuals to inaugurate tracks whereon races, so called, were conducted without regard to principle or propriety, and where reprehensible practices were the rule.

A Crusade for Decency.

This brought racing into such disrepute that some courageous and determined sportsmen undertook to put an end to the disgrace which threatened not only the future of the turf, but of the stud and the breeding farm as well. At the head of these stalwart champions of true sport were August Belmont and E. D. Morgan. Reputable turfmen, owners and trainers alike, welcomed the crusade and gave it their support. Public sentiment came to ald of both. Legislatures adopted laws making disreputable racing impossible with-in their states, and Congress did likewise for the District of Columbia. As a result, racing today is on a higher level in the country than it has ever before attained.

The Washington Jockey Club. When it became apparent that such desirable condition was to be reached the Washington Jockey Club was organized through the efforts of Mr. S. S. Howland, who had taken up his residence in Washington, who was joined by some of the most substantial men of the community, as well as of New York, including Mr. August Belmont. The latter purchased the track at Benning, which has since been the home of the club, and since that for-tunate time Washington has been the scene of the opening and closing of what is known the eastern circuit. During the past three months over $100,000 has been spent in improvements at the track, a full description of which has been hitherto published in The Evening Star. mitherto published in the Evening Star. The racegoing public, which comprises now the very best elements of this cosmopolitan community, will have opportunity to see for itself Monday and the succeeding days the great metamorphosis that Benning has undergone. At the same time patrons will probably see the heat racing over witnessed. probably see the best racing ever witnessed on the track. There will be 200 more horses n attendance than ever before at Benning and this will assure large fields and accordingly a greater interest in selecting winners and runners up.

The horses are more evenly matched than any bunch of previous meetings; and in the chief event of the opening day, Monday, the entries are particularly noteworthy in this respect. This race will be the New Grand Stand Handicap, at seven furlongs, for three-year-olds and upward. Each entry will subscribe $10, half forfeit, to the winner, with $700 added, of which the sccond will receive $125 and the third $75. Knight of Rhodes, the property of W. C. Eustis of this city, in charge of Trainer W. P. Burch, also of Washington, one of the fastest horses in training, has been given the top weight, 126 pounds. It is under-stood that Mr. Burch, before the weights were announced yesterday by Handicapper Vosburgh, had intimated that if the Knight was given more than 125 pounds he would not start. He may, however, consider the distance and accept the extra pound. Unmasked, recently from the stable of James R. Keene, who will carry 124 pounds, is extremely fast, but, like the well-remembered Little Minch, somewhat erratic.

Toddy, also from Keene's stable, and now, like Unmasked, in the keeping of Buckley & Bailey, will carry 123 pounds. Toddy won the Brighton handicap this year, and will undoubtedly be a contestant. The recent races at Aqueduct of McCaf-ferty's Potente, who will have 122 pounds on him Monday, indicate that he is in the pink of condition. Among his Aqueduct wins was the Laybrook handicap.

Other Good Ones.

The Rhymer, weighted at 119, is a consistent performer, and can carry weight, and that Jimmy McLaughlin will have him fit goes without saying.

Louisville, the western sprinter, while extremely fast, seems anchored by the weight, IIS pounds, she is given for Monday, weighing, as she does, but 800 pounds in training. Howard McCorkle of Lexing-ton, her owner, will probably think well of ton, her owner, will probably think well of her in case she starts.

Tom Healey's old campaigner, Carbuncle, who will carry 117 pounds, will undoubtedly have a good following.

J. J. McCafferty seems to have an extremely strong hand in the new grand stand deal with McAddie and the Puritan, who will have 117 and 116 pounds. who will have 117 and 116 pounds, respectively. The distance seems a trifle short for P. S. P. Randolph's good mare, The Amazon, although 115 pounds suits her well.

Good backing will be given in all probability to R. Wilson's Lady of the Valley, Tom Greene's Annie Thompson, the Pepper stables' Lord Pepper, F. R. Hitchcock's Guesswork and S. S. Tracy & Co.'s Scarlet

Some Occupants of Stables. There are lots of other good ones at the track who will make things interesting in the next three weeks. Lux Casta, who ran second in this year's Futurity, is in fine fettle. So are The Goldfinder, Decanter and Cryptogram. Petronius, the two-year-old of W. C. Whitney, is looking as fine as a

J. E. Lane have an excellent lot, including Imperialist, Passaic, Lady Hayman, Concertina, a two-year-old, and All Saints and Spry, both threes. The last trio are from James R. Keene's stable, and have won seventeen races between them this year.

J. S. Bratton of St. Louis, who was the J. S. Bratton of St. Louis, who was the rival and is now the successor of the late "Fatty" Bates as a horse show exhibitor, has Verify, Prosper, La Gai, Zoraide and Meditation in his string, besides three jumpers, one of which is a qualified hunter. He bought Meditation, a two-year-old, from James R. Keene yesterday for $1,500.

Mr. H. Rozier Dulaney and Mr. Robert Neville have nine between them, principally hunters. Mr. McCann, belonging to Mr. hunters. Mr. McCann, belonging to Mr. Neville, is one of the candidates of the Piedment Club for the Hunters' champion

G. C. Johnson, which is the racing name of a leading local business man, has Rossair and Teavarre in Peter Stine's charge; Willard J. and two two-year-olds. Miss Hastings and Red Damsel, in E. J. Hanna's keeping, and a couple of yearlings in Burch's hands.

There has been no advance in prices. Admission with grand stand privileges will be $1 and season badges for the full eighteen days are $15.

Notes of Interest.

Superintendent Gorman of the Morris Park track will be in charge of Benning this meeting. Superintendent James Lee has been somewhat under the weather, but will assist Mr. Gorman, and doubtless get many points from the veteran expert that will be advantageous to Benning in the future.

Preliminary affairs of the meeting have been in charge of Mr. Algernon Dainger-field, the capable and courteous assistant to Secretary H. G. Crickmore, and have been admirably conducted. Mr. Dainger-field presided as judge at the recent successful meeting at Pimilco, and it was largely through his influence that many of the stables there determined to come to the Benning meeting.

A special train from New York will bring over a very large contingent of racing men tomorrow. The Pennsylvania railroad will run convenient specials to and from the track during the meeting, and Columbia electric cars will run from 15th street and New York avenue every two minutes, the fare being

There was a large crowd out at the track this morning watching the early exercise. A 40 to 1 Shot Won in the First Race of the Day.

The features of the day at Aqueduct yesterday were the victory of Morokanta, a 30 to 1 shot, in the first race, and the action of the stewards when called on to pass judgment on a claim of foul in the fourth. The most surprising thing about Morokanta's victory was that the colt was allowed to run loose at such a price. There was some 40 to 1 to be had against him when the layers first opened business for the day. Heliobas, the great sprinter, was an odds on favorite, and he surely outclassed his rivals, but the Farandole horse was not up to a race and was not in the money at the finish. Maiden was the pacc-maker for a good part of the six furlongs, and then Morokanta was sent up by Walsh, and in a drive headed Shoreham by half a length when he passed the judges, the pacemaker finishing third.

The race that gave the stewards a chance to surprise the public had only four horses as starters. Going around the first turn there was a good deal of crowding between Criterion, Lucky Star and Bowen, who rat in that order, with reference to the rail with Handicapper on the extreme outside and running last. Lucky Star seemel to get the worst of the crowding and fell back, but Bowen soon afterward retired to the rear and finished an extremely bad 123t, with a severe cut on his off hind leg.

Wonderly made a complaint to the stewards, who examined every boy but the right one, Redferd, and then disqualified Handiand in last position when the accident occurred. Criterion seemed to be the offen-der. He swung a bit wide and carried Bowen out into Lucky Star, but Redfern was not questioned. The fifth race furnished a fine contest.

Locket was left at the post, but otherwise the start was excellent. Honolulu, the favorite, was in the forefront all the way, and, skillfully ridden by Shaw, just managed to stall off Carrington's challenge at the finish. The favorite won by the sacrt-Criterion, by the way, was amazingly im-

Molly Peyton is a pretty cheap sailing plater, who was eaten yesterday by Marothen, Alard and Sir Eggis, in the last race, was one of the hottest tips in many a day. He was backed from 30 to 1 down to 8 to 1, and finished

Her Stable Closes the Season With Splendid Profit.

The stable of Col. James E. Pepper of Meadowthorpe, near Lexington, Ky., closed the racing season on the eastern turf $40,000 to the good. The stable is conducted by the wife of Col. Pepper, Mrs. Ella Pepper. A few years ago the colonel's health broke down, and he decided to give up the turf and sell his horses. Then Mrs. Pepper asked for the transfer of her husband's string of thoroughbreds to herself. Col. Pepper complied, and Mrs. Pepper's name became as familiar to followers of the turf as was his own. There were in the stables Black Venus, Barley Corn, Whisky King, Lady Pepper and a dozen other horses, all with fine racing records. Mrs. Pepper did not confine her entries to the horses owned by her husband when she came into poson. She bought for herself, and one session. She bought for herself, and one notable purchase was that of Kantaka, whom she secured from Pierre Lorillard. Col. and Mrs. Pepper live at Meadowthorpe, near Lexington, where they have one of the most beautiful country places in America. Not only does Mrs. Pepper preside over this, but she directs all the details of one of the most sengers full breed. details of one of the most successful breeding establishments in the blue grass region.

BETTING ON BIG FIGHT.

Jeffries is a 5 to 2 Favorite Over Rublin.

So great a clamor was raised by Champion Jeffries' friends and admirers to see him go through his exercises that he left Harbin Springs, Cal., for Oakland yesterday. Most of his work at Oakland will be done indoors. Reports say he was never in better trim and that he has given special attention to hardening the muscles of his left arm, which failed him in his last fight. Ruhlin's quarters have been visited by nundreds of sports anxious to get a line on him. All report that Gus is in great form, and that Madden is confident he will win

Betting has commenced on the fight. The odds yesterday were five to two on Jeffries, but the sporting sages believe that before the week ends the betting will be but two Jeff's announcement that he proposes to mix things from the tap of the gong has stimulated interest in the contest, for in all of his previous fights Jeff has played a waiting game, and has thus detracted from the spectacular features that he now promises. If he goes in for slugging from the start this battle between giants will be a memorable ring contest.

Unless the unforeseen happens, neither man will have any excuse to offer on the score of condition. The question that scorts are asking is. Can Jeffries knock out Ruhlin in the stipulated number of rounds? Even the Ruhlin admirers only expect the Akron giant to be on his feet at the end of twenty rounds. Ruhlin's only boast is that he will be on his feet at the end of the last round.

Assuming that the fight should go to the limit and that Ruhlin, if anything, migat have a shade the better of the contest, those interested in ring fights say that it would take an extraordinary referee to decide against the champion of the world. That is one of the reasons why men are laying long odds on Jeffries. Of course, the main reason is that Jeffries has a much in two rounds. The battle was scheduled to go ten, but came to a sudden finish in th: second. This was the third time that these two pugilists have met, but it was the first knock-out scored by either. In the first round both men seemed cautious. They sparred lightly and it seemed that both were afraid to mix matters up. Maher both were afraid to mix matters up. Maher played almost entirely for the stomach, while Jeffords, acting on the defensive, tried to stop Peter with left-hand jabs on the face, but the Irishman proved clever and easily avoided the blows.

In the second round both men changed tactics. They went into one another hammer and tongs. Maher was the first to begin hostilities. He landed on Jeffords' wind and face and with a right-hand hook on the jaw sent Jim to the floor. Jeffords jumped up and sent a right-hand swing on Peter's face that put him to the mat, and Maher took the count. When he got up he rushed Jeffords, put his left on the Californian's jaw and followed it with a right in the stomach, which put Jeffords right in the stomach, which put Jeffords down and out. Maher seemed to be in good condition, while Jeffords looked fat.

TESTIMONIAL TO MR. MANNING. Handsome Silver Service Presented to the Ex-Manager by Friends. An appropriate tribute of esteem and appreciation was paid Mr. James H. Manning, ex-manager of the Washington base ball club, last night at his cozy rooms in the Gloucester by a coterie of friends in the presentation of a handsome silver service. Mr. Manning gathered friends around him from the first time he set foot in Washington, and after one season's experience in this city his followers had become legion. When Mr. Manning decided to get out of base ball several of his friends determined that he should be given a little token as a sort of remembrance and last night wit nessed the culmination of the project. Mr. James W. Dunn presented the service to Mr. Manning, with a few words expressing the regard entertained for him by the local base ball public. The latter replied with a few remarks of appreciation of the testimonial and his sorrow of parting, and then Mr. Wilton J. Lambert spoke with force and feeling of the base ball manager's career in Washington.

Refreshments were served and the even-ing was passed in discussing last season's ase ball experiences. The service presented to Mr. Manning onsisted of five pieces of solid silver of a unique and handsome design. Upon four of the five pieces are engraved a large old English "M," while upon the fifth or largest piece, was engraved, "Presented to Mr. piece, was engraved, "Presented to Mr. James Manning by his friends of the base ball season of 1901." The names of the donors appear, and are as follows: Messrs. Wilton J. Lambert, J. W. Dunbar, J. M. Dunn, Harry Fry, W. G. Betts, Thomes E. Evers, G. Hector Clemes, E. S. Cochran, John J. $3,900 a Season. The American League generals have not given up hope of landing Frank Hahn, the Cincinnati pitcher. The fact that Hahn has not signed with the Cincinnati club in which city he is wintering, is believed to mean that he is at least considering the offer he has from Ban Johnson. The exact third baseman who will fit nicely on the in Chicago. Hahn will not have to deal with any club, but with the league direct. That is, he is given the privilege to pick the club he prefers to play with. The contract offered the Cincinnati man is iron-clad, so it is said, and the club which would secure his services would be compelled to pay him the salary for two years, whether he worked or not. It is naturally supposed that Hahn, should he decide to sign with the American League, would pick one of the big cities to play in. Comiskey is particularly anxious to get the crack left-hand-er. On the grounds-of the Georgetown Preparatory School yesterday afterpoon, the Western High School eleven simply wiped up the earth with the lads from the Business High School, scoring a victory by the one-sided figures of 22 to 5. Fifteen and twenty-minute halves were played. Hundreds of students of both schools were on hand to cheer their favorites and the greatest enthusiasm was displayed. The solitary touchdown credited to the Business solitary touchdown credited to the Business boys came as the result of a clever run of forty yards around the left end by White and a persistent rush by Johnson, who carried the ball over the line. The Business boys seemed unable to stop the rushes of the Westerns at any stage of the game and in addition fumbled in a disastrous manner. The Westerns were on their tiptoes from start to finish and a mix-up of signals was responsible in letting White through with his big gain.

we slash prices at our six Great Cash Furniture Houses. Notice what the same goods will cost you at other stores, and particularly at the credit houses. You will see then that our claim to save you from 25% to 40% is not merely talk, but actual fact. You will find all our prices as low as these in proportion and you will find we have as fine a stock as any house in Washington can show.
